

London, August 18.

Last Night came in a Mail from Holland. The Letters advise, that the Trenches were open'd against Lille the 21st at Night; And that the Duke of Marlborough has paid the Schelde, and is encamp'd with his Left near Amogies and his Right at Pottes, to oppose any Attempt the Enemy might offer to make in Brabant: The Duke of Burgundy and the Duke of Berwick continue yet in their former Camps.

A Rhinoceros about 20 Years since was brought from Siam in India, which in Strength and Colour is like the Elephant, upon his Nose groweth a large and hard Horn, on its Back are many Divisions like the Shells of a Tortoise, its Skin is so extreme hard no Dart can pierce it, each Foot hath 3 Hoofs. In a word, this admirable Creature, from the Tip of its Nose to the End of his Tail, differs from all other Beasts, except only in Eyes and Ears. To be seen with its Skeleton, near the Paulcon on the Road to Hyde-Park, turning down to May-Fair.
