CHARLES DARWIN'S

NOTEBOOKS FROM THE VOYAGE
OF THE 'BEAGLE'

FOREWORD BY
RICHARD DARWIN
KEYNES

CAMBRIDGE

CHRONOLOGICAL REGISTER

By Kees Rookmaaker

H. M. S. Beagle left England on 27 December 1831 and returned on 2 October 1836, 1741 days later.<sup>1050</sup> This chronology supersedes all previous itineraries of the voyage. The nights Darwin spent on board or on land have been calculated using the Beagle diary, and for the nights on land, which territories he visited. Darwin stayed ashore for some days when the Beagle was travelling elsewhere. According to these calculations, Darwin had the following itinerary.

At sea	581 days or 33.3 %
At anchor	566 days or 32.6 %
On land	594 days or 34.1 %

Darwin's nights on board the Beagle:<sup>1051</sup> 1145 nights or 65.8 %.

Darwin's nights on land: 596 nights or 34.2 % (955 nights, or 55%, were spent in South America).

Darwin spent his nights in the following territories, either on land or on the Beagle at anchor. Nights on board the Beagle while traversing coastal waters are not included.

Cape de Verdes	27 days	New Zealand	9 days
Brazil	126 days	Australia	38 days
Banda Oriental	156 days	Keeling	11 days
Argentina	222 days	Mauritius	10 days
Falklands	64 days	Cape of Good Hope	18 days
Chile	375 days	Ascension	4 days
Peru	51 days	St Helena	6 days
Galapagos	25 days	Azores	6 days
Tahiti	10 days

1050 Monday 16 November 1835 did not exist due to crossing the international dateline. Barlow 1967, appendix VI (pp. 241–3) gave a list of sections of the journey, stating the number of days at sea and on land. When the days are added up (with a month taken as 31 days), the totals are: 533 days at sea, 1147 on land, total 1680 days. Hence the total is 61 days less than the correct total. Barlow calculated the period 28 April to 23 July 1833 as 56 days, which should be 87 days. And the period 29 January to 7 March 1834 as 9 days, which should be 32 days. In both cases a month was missed.

1051 When CD spent a day on land but was on board at night, the date is calculated as being on board, with the Beagle probably in harbour.

The Beagle field notebooks contain references to c. 474 days or 26 % of the journey. These are listed chronologically below.
