

No. 405.

IV. Series.

THE SHOW OF ANIMALS.

—
the Committee of Publication.
—

PHILADELPHIA:
SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION,
46 CHESTNUT STREET.

B 0000149007

UC SOUTHERN REGIONAL LIBRARY FACILITY

The Rhinoceros.

THE RHINOCEROS

Is the same animal with the Unicorn. His body is large, his legs short and thick, and his skin very hard. With the horn that grows just over his nose, he can split a tree into thin pieces; and his jaws are so strong that he can twist the branches of the tree about, just as an ox can twist a carrot or a root of celery. God created him, and God can destroy him.