THE RHINOCEROS.—One of these extremely rare animals has arrived in England, by the Emma, from Calcutta, and is to be deposited in the Surrey Zoological Gardens in a few days, when a private view will take place, to which the Nobility and scientific have been invited, previous to its exhibition to the public.

MURRAY: there is no man whose return there would be more universally welcomed; and we have no more in Africa, than that the public character and services of the Gallant Officer, are, in themselves, sufficient to secure his return, independently of the esteem and respect with he is looked up to, by every class of the community, in his native country.

It is, indeed, the Government, in despair of finding any Member of Parliament who will vacate his seat and accept the vacant, and ten-times refused, Lordship of the Treasury, are endeavouring, with this view, to induce another candidate. It is no use, however, to induce another, who will not accept of it. The Government, therefore, are in a state, and it is to be feared, will remain in a state, until the electors of Perthshire will, with the candidate they at present possess, be anxious to see a candidate for their suffrages a candidate, also, for the favour of Lord GREY, or be inclined to confer the honour of representing them in Parliament on any individual, who will, at the election, be marked out as the destined occupier of a distinction already rejected by Mr. BANERMAN and half-a-dozen more of their countrymen! The electors of Perthshire will, we rather think, consider that their Representative, and the Representative of Lord GREY, in the House of Commons, can hardly be united in one and the same person.

In answer to our Correspondent "VIGIL," we can only say, that the Lord GREY, we believe, will only lend support to any man who will accept of the only Lord DUBHAM and Mr. EDWARD ELICIE are doing at Paris as he is. M. POZZO DI BORGIO himself is not more anxious on that subject than Lord PALMERSTON. From Lord GREY, we think it more bewildered than from Lord GREY.

Paris, half-past Three o'clock.—French Five per Cent. 104. 25. Three per Cent. 75. 1/2. Spanish Three per Cent. 41. 1/2. The Funds here have been lower owing chiefly to the being the liquidation day, for I can discover no political cause.

THE CHURCH.

We find the following article in the Standard, in a juxtaposition, which can fall to be instructive only to those who consider a history with Lord PLUNKET as an old Almanack:

GRACEWICKERS AS THEY WERE.—Bishop Hall, in a plain, unadorned, unembellished style of the 18th century, he was taken away and all his goods and personal estate, and he was taken away and all his goods and personal estate, and he was taken away and all his goods and personal estate, and he was taken away and all his goods and personal estate.
