THE NEWLY ARRIVED RHINOCEROS TO
PAY $600 DUTY AS AN IMPORTED
LUXURY.

[New York Sun.]

The German steamer Weser, from Bremen, brought a menagerie over for Charles Reiche of 83 Chatham street. There were twenty-five dog faced monkeys, one an immense fellow, five feet tall; pelicans and black swans, a pair of emus, an African antelope, and a sayage rhinoceros. Most of the animals are for Robinson's show, and will be shipped to Cincinnati.

The rhinoceros, which is said to be the largest ever shipped to this country, was confined in a strong cage, and was constantly attended through the voyage by a keeper. He was captured in Africa a year ago, and has been wintering in Bremen. At 11 o'clock to-day he will be put upon a truck and carried to Central Park, where he will be kept for a couple of weeks before being sent West. Six hundred dollars duty is claimed by the Custom House authorities before the rhinoceros can be landed. He is valued at $50,000.

Next week a lion, two leopards, two hyenas, a panther, and a Hama will arrive, consigned to Sells Brothers, in British Columbia. The winter is the season preferred for shipping wild animals to this country, as the temperature below deck may be kept warm without suffocating the animals, and they arrive in time for the circus season, without cost for winter keeping.
