

Mr. F. Weld has bagged two rhinoceroses in the Kinta district. This gentleman is fast acquiring fame as a great Shikari. It was only the other day that he got a tusker.

Mr. John Turner, Caledonia Estate, has received news by telegram from the Resident Councillor, Penang, that restriction on coolie emigration from India has been removed; quarantine, however, being still enforced.

Mr. Oehis, who keeps an electroplating establishment at No. 48 Hill Street, and lives at No. 2 Eber Road, yesterday got information that his place of business had been broken into. On inspecting the house he found that the padlock had been removed and that a sewing machine and a plated jug, valued at $58, were missing.

The visit of the Italian man of war Elba to Penang seems to have been thoroughly appreciated by our friends up north, who speak highly of the exceedingly good discipline of the men on board and their conduct ashore. The Resident Councillor went aboard and was received with a guard of honour, the Jack being hoisted at the mainmast.

Another announcement of Capt. Metcalfe's engagement comes by the mail in this form:—"Mrs Dorothea Brodnax-Knight, daughter of the late Captain Brodnax-Knight, Queen's Bays, and Mrs. Brodnax-Knight, of West Dean, Winchester, to Captain H.C. Metcalfe, Northamptonshire Regiment, eldest son of the late Rev. George Metcalfe." And apropos, it is wonderful how association, for a time even, with the Malay States Guides has been productive of this other sort of association. Col. Walker, Capt. Talbot, Capt. Vanrenen, Capt. Metcalfe, Lt. Ingpen, and, to-morrow, last, though not least, Capt. Ainslie. An appointment to the M. S. G. might be considered as good as a "Married State's Guide."
