

Untitled

The Singapore Free Press and Mercantile Advertiser (Weekly), 14 December 1897, Page 379

 Article also available on Microfilm Reel NL1934

There are at present in Singapore a couple of rhinoceroses, a mother and her calf. They were captured by natives on the western side of the Peninsula, and have been acquired by Mr. S. Mayer, who has been on the look-out for specimens in Tringganu. The mother is full-grown, and weighs about a ton and a half.