

Seeking Hosts for AZA Annual Conferences

The AZA Annual Conference Site Selection Committee is seeking hosts for the annual conference in the years 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, and 2005. If you have a special project on line or would like to show off your fair city and quality facility to over 1,500 of your colleagues, consider hosting the AZA Annual Conference. Application forms are available through the AZA Office of Membership Services. Call or write Linda Boyd, AZA OMS, Oglebay Park, Wheeling, WV 26003-1698 (304) 242-2160, fax 242-2283. P. Simmons

Southern Black Rhino Born at Fossil Rim

Fossil Rim Wildlife Center, Glen Rose, Texas, recorded the birth of its second female southern black rhino. The parents were relocated to Fossil Rim on 18 July 1995. This is the first offspring for the mother and third for the father. The pregnancy was monitored using the noninvasive technology of transrectal ultrasonography which allowed the veterinarian to correlate fetal measurements with gestational age for the first time. G. Rankin

Black Rhino at Fossil Rim Wildlife Center

We Design/Build For All Species Including Humankind

For nearly 40 years, Cost of Wisconsin, Inc. has been a pioneer and innovator in the design, fabrication and construction of artificial environments and specie specific habitat. Our commitment to creativity and realism is on display at zoos and museums around the world. Large or small, simple or complex, Cost can make your vision a reality.

W172 N13050 Division Rd., Germantown WI 53022
Ph 414-255-4220 Fax 414-255-0096 800-221-7625

www.costofwisconsin.com

