

ZOONOOZ[®]

SAN DIEGO ZOO GLOBAL

NOVEMBER 2018

Charging Ahead
to End Extinction
2019 Calendar Issue

November 2018

VOL. XCI—NO. 06

Graphically Speaking

8

Trees, Please!

Forests are a vital part of our planet. But the alarming rate of deforestation taking place is a big concern for conservationists.

BY KAREN E. WORLEY AND AMY BLANDFORD

Cover Story

10

Ending Extinction: Challenge Accepted

As a conservation organization, San Diego Zoo Global is taking the knowledge gained from past projects and combining it with today's latest advances, in order to protect and save endangered species for the future.

BY KAREN E. WORLEY

2019 Calendar

14

Featuring 12 species that San Diego Zoo Global is working to save from extinction.

More

2 Nooz Notes 7 SDZ Kids Page

38 WorldWild Tours

40 Support 44 In the Field

ON THE COVER:

African elephant Loxodonta africana

THIS PAGE:

African penguin Spheniscus demersus

PHOTOS BY:

Ken Bohn, SDZG Photographer

April

RHINO MILESTONE

With the help of southern white rhinos at the Nikita Kahn Rhino Rescue Center, SDZG and research partners are breaking ground to genetically recover the related northern white rhino. Learn more at institute.sandiegozoo.org.