

Image © THE BRITISH LIBRARY BOARD. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

determined to walk in Armagh and Tyrone. I am sorry to inform you, that in many places the potato crop has failed. The wheat and oats are fine, the flax never presented a more gratifying appearance to the growers.

ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS.

THE RHINOCEROS.—This animal expected for some time, arrived on Sunday morning from Liverpool, by one of the City of Dublin Company's Steam-Packets, and was drawn in a caravan to the gardens by six of Guinness and Co.'s dray horses. The arrival was but little known; however, great numbers attended to view the animal; he is a fine specimen, three years old, weighing nearly two tons weight. He was brought from Calcutta.

STAFF IN IRELAND.

The following changes we believe to be beyond mere rumour, and are expected to take effect in September:—