

Catalogue - Subd. II.

A

C O M P A N I O N

TO THE

M U S E U M,

(Late SIR ASHTON LEVER'S)

Removed to

ALBION STREET, the Surry End of BLACK FRIARS BRIDGE.

Whilst Time is unveiling, Science is exploring Nature.

L O N D O N :

PRINTED IN THE YEAR M.DCC.XC.

- Skull and Beak of the Albatros. — East Indies.
- Skull and Beak of the Ibis a species of stork, from the Nile.
- Skull and Beak of an unknown bird.
- Serrated Beak of a species of the Toucan, or Bill bird kind.
- Beak of a bird of the Falcon genus.
- Different parts of birds.

PARTS OF QUADRUPEDS. &c.

- (A) Skull of the Babyroussa, a curious species of wild hog, having a pair of large curved tusks in each jaw, from Borneo.
- Horn of a Rhinoceros, from the Cape of Good Hope, polished.
- Parts of the Hide of the Rhinoceros, remarkable for its thickness, being pistol-proof.
- This thickness of skin is necessary for an animal who, in his passage in the woods, makes his way through any part, turning aside for nothing but large trees. — See Kolbin's Natural History of the Cape of Good Hope.
- Jaws of the Beaver, remarkable for its fore teeth or cutters, which are so deeply and strongly fixed in the jaws, that they gnaw asunder branches of trees of the thickness of man's wrist, when forming their habitations, from North America.
- Foot of a Beaver.
- Grinder Teeth of the Elephant, from Bombay.
- Tusks and Teeth of the Hippopotamus. — Coast of Guinea.
- Canine Tooth of a Lion, from Africa.
- Teeth of the Horse, one polished.
- (A) Singular Horn, in shape of a human bust.
- (B) Horns, supposed to be excrescences formed on the human head.
- Horns and feet of the small African Deer.
- Singular curvated internal bone of the horn of some cornuted animal.
- An Armadillo as rolled up to secure itself from danger. — S. America.
- Vertebrae of
- Tusks of the Hog, from Otaheite.
- Under Jaw with the teeth of
- Bones with preternatural osseous appendages, very curious.
- Hoof of a young Zebra.
- Vertebrae of a Snake.

PARTS OF FISHES.

- Teeth of the Sperma Ceti Whale.
- Tusks and teeth of the Walrus.
- Teeth of the Sea Lion, from Falkland's Islands.
- Teeth of uncommon fishes.
- Paw of a large Seal.