

studio la primitive

arts zine issue 5 may 2014

Punk Rider - sculpture by Eric Werkhoven

Front cover - Cessnock copyright Debra Liel-Brown 2014

Please do not copy articles in this magazine without written permission of the Editor. Copyright © 2013 Studio La Primitive, All rights reserved.

slp

studio la primitive

EDITOR

Robyn Stanton Werkhoven

CONTRIBUTORS

Debra Liel-Brown

Philip Slack

Peter Griffen

David Graham

Donald Keys

Carlin McLellan

Lorraine Fildes

Glenda Smith

Fiona Wright

Eric Werkhoven

Timeless Textiles

Robyn Werkhoven

Graham Murphy

Safari Party Rhino - artist Georgia Perry - at Hyde Park South

Photograph © Lorraine Fildes 2014

INDEX

Index.....	3
Editorial..... Robyn Werkhoven	4
Studio La Primitive Antics..... E&R Werkhoven	5
Featured Artist..... Debra Liel-Brown	6 - 15
The Artist's Husband..... Philip Slack	16 - 20
Artist Interview ..... Peter Griffen	22 - 31
Poem .....Glenda Smith	32 - 33
Featured Artist .....Donald Keys	34 - 43
Essay.....Eric Werkhoven	44 - 45
Poetry .....Carlin McLellan	46 - 49
Rhino Safari ..... Lorraine Fildes	50 - 59
Poetry ..... David Graham	60 - 65
Stitching Project ..... Fiona Wright	66 - 71
Timeless Textiles .....Jan Clark	72 - 75
3 Village Art Festival ..... Graham Murphy	76 - 85
Art News .....	86 - 92

SLP would like to thank all contributors .

Deadline for articles - June 15th for July issue 6

Email articles to: werkhovenr@bigpond.com

Shooting Safari in Sydney

by Lorraine Fildes

“Rhinoceros Orchardos” - artist Richard Allen - at Pitt St. Mall, Market St.

Shooting Safari in Sydney by Lorraine Fildes

A great day in Sydney getting rhino images! If only everyone would go shooting with a camera instead of a gun. Beautiful hand painted rhinoceros sculptures are everywhere in Sydney at the moment. Why? I visited the Taronga Zoo website to find out.

<http://taronga.org.au/wild-rhinos>

“In the wild, poaching is causing world rhino populations to collapse, pushing these animals towards extinction. Right now, one rhino is killed every 11 hours by poachers. ‘Taronga Wild! Rhinos’ was a Wild in Art event that brought businesses, artists and schools together to create a spectacular world-class sculpture trail through the streets, parks and public spaces of metropolitan Sydney to country Dubbo. This event was held from 2 Feb – 28 April 2014. The herd of 125 extremely colourful rhino and calf sculptures formed a free public art exhibition to help raise awareness and vital funds for Taronga’s world leading Black Rhino breeding program and in-situ conservation projects.”

I managed to capture (shoot?) ten of these Rhinos in Sydney CBD. I have given the artists name, the rhinoceros’s title and the place where the sculpture was sited.

For more detailed information go to: <http://taronga.org.au/wild-rhinos/artists>

Lorraine Fildes is a travel photographer and writer, presently living in Sydney.

R - Bot 4000 artist - Joel Gregory Cameron - at Custom House Square.

Camouflage - artist Hans Hulsbosh - at Martin Place.

Porcelain Rhino - artist Rachel Chu - at Chifley Plaza.

Rhino - All Patched Up - artist Lynley Kirkness - at Hyde Park.

Rhino Survival & Golden Baby - Ken Done - at Overseas Terminal.

People Takeover the Wild Rhino - artists Kevin & Paul Connor - at Opera House

Sunrise - Wakeup With Friends - artists Channel 7 Sunrise crew - at Martin Place.

“Put a Lid On It” artist - Jane Gillings - at the Sydney Botanic Gardens.