President's Perspective

Happy World Rhino Day Month!

I hope everyone had a fantastic WRD! It is always fun to see the creativity of the various celebrations for this special day. As rhino keepers, it is a day to reflect on the gains we have made, but also a stark reminder that there is still much to be done to save these species.

Many hoorah's to our Fundraising Committee for our SUPER cool WRD limited edition Javan rhino t-shirt. Funds from this will benefit the critically endangered Javan rhino. The sale only goes for two weeks, so get yours today!

Thank you all in participating in the voting for the Board of Directors! It was the largest participation in our history. With the results, we extend our congratulations to some familiar faces including Cassy Kutilek, Cody Cseplo and Angie Snowie. While welcoming our newest member Justin Klauss from Fossil Rim. With the addition of our newest member we also say farewell with much love and gratitude to our Secretary, Stephanie Richmond.

We are very excited to announce that registration for RKW 2025 is now open! Remember that early bird registration can be a substantial savings! Omaha is hard at work making this a fantastic workshop.

If you have never attended one of our webinars, I highly recommend the Animal Response Ropes team on November 10th. You may learn something that could be invaluable to your facility in multiple scenarios.

Another great benefit of being a professional member is our Keeper Professional Development Program. Jazzmin Wipf shares her experience and insights gained by visiting the San Diego Safari Park. Participation is easy! We have a scholarship and multiple participating facilities to choose from to expand your experience and knowledge.

As always, thank you to our members, conservation partners and sponsors for helping us make this organization one of the BEST!

Peace, Love, Rhinos

IRKA B.O.D. Results

Board of Directors voting ended in August with four positions to fill.
 2024 was the highest voter turn out in IRKA history.
 Thank you to everyone who participated!

Welcome Justin Klauss

Justin brings a lot of hands-on experience from working with black and white rhinos from neonatal to geriatric care. As a senior animal care specialist at Fossil Rim he has gained leadership skills while being in charge of managing a team, deadlines/projects, and animal needs on a daily basis.

"I enjoy meeting new people/networking and discussing rhino management issues. Oftentimes these discussions happen at workshops, conferences, and on professional online forums."

Congratulations to Angie Snowie, Cody Cseplo, and Cassy Kutilek, on their re-elections!

The BOD is dedicated to ensuring that IRKA progresses toward its goals and is accountable to the membership. As an organization, we need all BOD input to improve the future for all species of rhinoceros as well as directly addressing conservation, education and managed care issues.

Farewell Stephanie!

On behalf of IRKA BOD, I am extending a special note of thanks to Stephanie Richmond, our Secretary Extraordinaire!

Stephanie's contributions as IRKA's secretary for the last eight years have been invaluable. She has guided and recorded all of the critical documentation of numerous workshops and board meetings, for which we are deeply grateful. Her work has significantly improved the efficiency of our organization, allowing us to share projects and information seamlessly. Her instrumental role in transforming our documentation system from binders to computers and Google Drive, bringing us into the 21st century, is truly commendable.

Her enthusiasm and dedication to her role showed in every project she touched, including the initiation of IRKA merchandise. She was invaluable at workshops, helping with everything from planning and documentation to having spare hands to help wherever and whenever needed.

We will miss your calm and composure at our meetings - always having a word of wisdom to help guide a decision for our group. Always ready with a smile and "How can I help?" Your enthusiasm, energy, and positive attitude will be sorely missed.

At our last board meeting in June, we decided to show Stephanie our love and appreciation with a commissioned piece of artwork of her most beloved black rhino! Thank you, Stephanie, for all your hard work over the years, which will enable future

BOD members to access our history and share information with ease.

We look forward to your continued support of all things rhino and IRKA. We wish you the very best in your future endeavor's!!!

With all our love! The BOD

Keeper Professional Development at the San Diego Safari Park

In May, I had the privilege of spending time at San Diego Safari Park, and the experience was both educational and extremely valuable. One of the highlights was the opportunity to learn directly from the keepers at the Rhino Rescue Center. As someone who trains rhinos and helps with ultrasounds at my facility, I found it helpful to observe their techniques firsthand. I gained valuable insights into some of the common challenges they face and the techniques they employ, which has inspired me to explore ways to enhance the ultrasound and aftercare processes at my facility.

I was impressed by their ability to train their rhinos in the field, even though they live in large crashes and with other species. This experience demonstrated that training is possible even when direct access to the animals is limited. It also gave me a renewed perspective and deeper appreciation for the work we do at my own institution. No matter the size or scope of the organization, there are universal challenges, such as the constant need to maintain cleanliness.

This trip to the San Diego Safari Park was an invaluable learning experience that has left me with ideas and ways to improve the practices at my facility. I highly recommend that others take this opportunity and do professional development through the IRKA.

New Conservation Partner

Conservation Partners are conservation organization or zoological institution which supports rhino conservation in accordance with the objectives and purpose of the IRKA. These partnerships often provide discounts for the supporting institution . It is important that as the IRKA grows we continue to garner the support from all facilities that are responsible for the protection and management of rhinoceros. We would like to extend our appreciation for the support from the following institutions, and hopefully we can add your zoo to this growing list! If you or your institution are interested in becoming a
